THE LATE ELECTIONS
Being resented to the entire satisfaction of the successful candidates, and the undersigned, proprietor of the Cheap Side Hardware Store,
Having demonstrated the fact that his customers get better value for their money than the putnam county hardware store, he has determined to sell at the lowest prices, and to give to the public the benefit of his experience. He has selected from the largest and best assortment of stock of Gloves, Hardware and Tinware in the city, at greatly reduced prices, to call and consult their own interests by making purchases of him.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
For the Renovation of the Hair.
The Great Desideratum of the Age.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, but such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a greasy sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling out, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

Inscription on Henry Clay's Monument.
Henry Clay was once asked in Congress, by a Democrat ready for treason and plunder, when he would consent to a dissolution of the Union. Mr. Clay's answer was—“Never! never! NEVER!” This answer electrified the nation, and inspired the following lines from the pen of George D. Prentice, a copy of which has been furnished us by an old friend, formerly of Kentucky. They are engraved on the monument erected to the memory of Mr. Clay at Lexington:
You ask me when I'd read the scroll,
Your father's name is written there;
When I should see our flag unroll
Beneath a foreign star and sphere;
When with a worse than felon's hand,
Or felon council, I would sever
The Union of this glorious land;
I answer—never! never! never!

Inscription on Henry Clay's Monument.
Henry Clay was once asked in Congress, by a Democrat ready for treason and plunder, when he would consent to a dissolution of the Union. Mr. Clay's answer was—“Never! never! NEVER!” This answer electrified the nation, and inspired the following lines from the pen of George D. Prentice, a copy of which has been furnished us by an old friend, formerly of Kentucky. They are engraved on the monument erected to the memory of Mr. Clay at Lexington:
You ask me when I'd read the scroll,
Your father's name is written there;
When I should see our flag unroll
Beneath a foreign star and sphere;
When with a worse than felon's hand,
Or felon council, I would sever
The Union of this glorious land;
I answer—never! never! never!

A Glance at the Situation.
What is the situation of France? An invalid man, with a boy of fourteen, and a fashionable lady for adviser, will march at the head of the armies of France against half of Europe. The armies are those war Generals good, and they cross the Rhine with Vive L'Empereur! They may have a temporary success, like the rebels of Bull Run; but how about the end? They go into the field without one just idea, and with the sympathy of any people. Who is there in Europe to sympathize with Napoleon in a war of aggression? Austria is the only power which can be supposed to side with France, and that only because of jealousy and soreness toward Prussia. But a considerable part of Austria is composed of Germans; and where is the German who will sympathize with France? Napoleon has just issued a proclamation to

GREENCASTLE BANNER.

Royal Participants in the War, Actual and Prospective.

Both the Emperor of the French and the King of Prussia are old enough to be thinking about other things than war. Napoleon was sixty-two years of age on the 10th of April last, and his frequent fits of illness, and habits of dissipation in early life, render it extremely doubtful if he reaches much less passes, three score and ten. King William is even older, having been born on the 22d of March, 1797. The Czar of Russia, who may be expected to take a hand in the game, is much younger than the two sovereigns above mentioned. He was born April 29th, 1818. He is a nephew of the King of Prussia. The Emperor of Austria will complete his fortieth year on the 15th of August, and the King of Denmark, who may naturally hope to see the provinces which France wrested from him restored, is just three weeks the senior of the Russian monarch. King Leopold III., of Belgium, was thirty-five years of age on the 9th of April. Being the son of Queen Victoria's favorite uncle, family sympathies, as well as his personal qualities, render the Belgian Government very solicitous that the neutrality of his little Kingdom should be preserved. King William Third of Holland, another of the crowned heads who is naturally desirous of keeping out of trouble, is a son-in-law of the King of Wurtemberg, and a nephew of the late Nicholas of Russia. He was born February 17th, 1817. Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, who may be involved in the war, is fifty years old. He was born March 14th, 1820.

We have been asked in regard to the relationship which Prince Napoleon bears to the Emperor of the French. He is his cousin, being the son of a sister, late Jerome, youngest brother of Napoleon I. Jerome, it will be recalled, married Miss Patterson, of Baltimore. This union his brother refused to recognize, and forced him to espouse the daughter of the King of Wurtemberg. His son by this marriage, Napoleon Joseph Charles Bonaparte, was born September 9th, 1822, and married in 1859 the Princess Clotilde, daughter of Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy. The Prince, who is nicknamed Plon Plon, is fat and jolly, and affects liberal principles in politics. Should the Prince Imperial, Napoleon only child, die, he would be heir to the throne. In the seven wars' contest between Prussia and Austria in 1866, the Prince Royal of Prussia, Frederick William, and his cousin Prince Frederick Charles, took active parts. The former, who is married to Victoria's oldest daughter, was born October 18, 1843. Frederick Charles, who is the son of the King's brother, Prince Louis, was born March 20th, 1828. The Duke of Brabant, whose dominions lie very near the scene of hostilities on the Rhine, was born September 2, 1835, and is a son-in-law of the King of Prussia.

No blister draws sharper than the interest does. Of all industries, the most profitable is that of interest. It works all day and night in fair weather and foul. It has no sound in its footsteps, but travels fast. It crawls at a man's substance with invisible teeth. It binds industry with its film, as a fly is bound in a spider's web. Debtors roll a man over and over, binding hand and foot, and letting him hang from the fatal noose until the long-legged interest devours him. There is but one thing on a farm like it, and that is the Canada thistle, which swarms new plants every time you break its roots, whose blossoms are prolific, and every flower an oval of a million seeds. Every leaf is an ax, every branch a spear, and every plant like a platoon of bayonets, and a field of them like an armed host. The whole plant is a torment and vegetable curse. And yet a farmer had better make his bed of Canada thistles than attempt to be at ease upon interest.—Becher.

A correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal remarks: "There are about forty Christian churches in this city. About 15,000 persons attend services in these churches on the Sabbath. We have about 60,000 population. The question arises as to where are the 45,000 people who are not at church?" Whereupon the Journal remarks: "This suggests an appropriate field for the work of laymen. Let them fight and suppress the anti-Christian spirit of extravagance which has led the churches of Indianapolis to the expenditure of half a million of dollars in church buildings, which by the very elegance of their appointments, drive poor people away from their doors. One half of that sum judiciously distributed in different parts of our city would give church accommodations to all who care to go to church, and the remainder could have been well applied to the foundation of libraries and charities which would have benefited all."

The production of grape-sugar or glucose, appears to be extending with considerable rapidity in this country. Factories for this purpose have been established in New Orleans, Buffalo, and Brooklyn. When grain or potatoes, yielding starch as the material for the manufacture, are cheap, and sugar is high-priced, the business will prove profitable; but a reverse condition of things, very likely to occur, will make the results quite different; and it is doubtful if the manufacture can be made a permanent industry here in a case of the latter. The facilities for making sugar from beetroot and other saccharine plants, as soon as our producers have acquired that practical knowledge of processes which has enabled European sugar makers to build up a production of the staple as vast as it is permanent.

Judge Samuel E. Perkins, one of the leading Democrats of the State, has written a letter in which he takes strong ground against the efforts of his party friends to raise an issue in this canvass on the Fifteenth Amendment. He says that when the negro was made a citizen his right to vote was inevitable, and that Congress was bound to grant the right of suffrage under that clause of the Constitution which makes it the duty of that body to guarantee a Republican form of government to each State in the Union. The Judge shows very clearly that a government which disfranchises a large portion of its citizens cannot be regarded as a Republican government. We would commend this letter to his Democratic friends who mourn and will not be comforted because the negro has been allowed to vote.

We have received the first number of the Democratic Herald, published at Richmond. We notice that James Elder is editor, and just below his name, we see that of D. S. Gooding. This calls to our minds a reminiscence of war times. During the war, this man Elder was editor of a Democratic paper at Richmond. His office was mobbed, and his material ruined by the soldiers. This same Gooding was when the paper was claimed, "Good God! I wish every copperhead newspaper office in the country was served the same way." Gooding says he hasn't changed any. We'd like to hear from Elder on that question.—Winchester Journal.

An eminent French physician ascribes the decrease of dyspepsia and bilious disorders in Paris to the greater consumption of apples, which he deems an admirable prophylactic and tonic, as well as a very nutritious and easily digested article of food. It is estimated that the Parisians devour one hundred million of apples every winter.

The strike of the miners in Clay county still continues, and the chances for an adjustment are growing more and more hopeless every day.

The Opposing Commanders.

The persecution of the supporters of James II. and his descendants drove from Scotland and Ireland into the continental armies some of the bravest and ablest commanders they ever had. The names of Berwick, Londonderry, and the name was originally spelled, Macdonald, and O'Donnell will be remembered among others by all readers of European history. MacMahon, one of Napoleon's most trusted Marshals, is of Irish descent as his name implies, but of French birth. His first services were in Algeria. In the Crimean war he won the title of the hero of the Malakoff, and in the war against Austria, in 1859, that of the hero of Magenta, the latter place furnishing the appellation of his dukedom. He is past sixty years of age, and a thorough soldier in every respect. Marshal Bismarck will be remembered as the leader of the miserable invasion of Mexico, where he superseded Gen. Forey. He has also seen service in Algeria and Crimea. He is sixty-eight years old.

Marshal Canrobert, in early life, defeated the Algerians in three campaigns, and was scarcely less distinguished at Magenta than MacMahon, and at Solferino insured victory for the French. The above General Palikao, who has fought in China, the Count of Montebello and other eminent officers, will also be prominent commanders.

If thorough military education, long experience in the field, and an almost insane passion for military glory on the part of their leaders, could insure success to the French armies they would have an easy path before them. The Prussian armies, however, are admirably officered. If their commanders have less dash than the French, they are not their inferiors in the science of war, or in real pluck and unwavering perseverance. General Von Moltke, who is over sixty-two years old, and the designer of the brilliant campaign of 1866 against Austria, and who in earlier years fought the Turkish banner, is Chief of Staff, and his genius will show itself amply. General Manteuffel, Alvensleben, and Steinmetz will doubtless lend him valuable co-operation, while the Princes Francis William and Francis Charles will be wise enough to heed the admonitions of these wise generals in their search for glory in the field.

Size of Our Great Lakes.

The latest measurement of our fresh water seas are these:

The greatest length of Lake Superior is 335 miles; its greatest breadth is 160 miles; mean depth, 685 feet; elevation, 627 feet; area, 42,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Michigan is 300 miles; its greatest breadth, 108 miles; mean depth 900 feet; elevation, 507 feet; area, 23,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Huron is 220 miles; its greatest breadth is 160 miles; mean depth 600 feet; elevation, 274 feet; area, 20,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Erie is 250 miles; its greatest breadth is 80 miles; its mean depth is 84 feet; elevation, 555 feet; area, 6,000 square miles.

The greatest length of Lake Ontario is 180 miles; its greatest breadth is 65 miles; its mean depth is 510 feet; elevation, 261 feet; area, 6,000 square miles.

A little girl, ten years old, daughter of Mr. D. Aldrich, Mt. Erie, Huntington County, was burned to death last week. She was lighting a fire, and using coal oil to make it burn quicker, when the can burst, enveloping her in flames. Such accidents are frequent, but people will still persist in such carelessness.

The new tariff bill passed by Congress makes large reductions in the duties on tea, sugar and coffee, the articles consumed by the laboring man. But not a Democrat cast his vote for the bill. Who favors cheap food for the laboring man?

General John Coburn of this State, did one good job in Congress for which he deserves a gold medal. He secured the passage of a bill designed to restrict private transactions in Government furniture.—Evansville Journal.

We all know that Dr. Hurley's Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla with the Iodide of Potash, is the preparation most relied upon by the Physicians and Druggists for the cure of Scrofula or King's Evil. Swellings of the glands, or any other ailment where an alterative and blood purifier is indicated, all know this, but many of us are ready to try something new because it is well advertised, and risk a shattered constitution, and entail ill health to our children coming after us. Beware! Beware! Dr. Hurley's Sarsaparilla is Purely Vegetable, for the proprietors offer a reward of one hundred dollars in gold for every grain of mineral substance that may be found in it, but many of us are ready to take up with these tasteless (arsenic) tasteless preparations that promise cure so that the child will not return—well, the child will not come back if the poison kills, or sets up a worse disease in the system. Oh tempora, oh mores.

Improved Breeding Stock.

I have just returned from Bourbon County, Kentucky, with a few improved breeding cattle—some thorough breeds and some fine grades. I have a part of them for sale. Any person wishing to buy stock of this kind, will find the undersigned living eight miles northeast of Greensboro, and one mile and a half north of Fillmore, Putnam County. I also have a lot of fine Canada sheep for sale—fine and a few ewes. Address: REUBEN S. OWEN, Fillmore, Ind.
